KOSHER KIWI ALERT – 22 February 2018

Dear Community Members

Regrettably we need to inform you that all Sanitarium products are no longer recommended for Kosher consumption. This is effective immediately. Already purchased previously approved products may be consumed.

The current change in status is due to the inability on the part of the Kosher agencies in Australia to obtain access to the relevant information from Sanitarium to determine kosher status. Since this is a large range of products that our communities have come to depend on, we would like to suggest that you contact Sanitarium Australia to register your concern and encourage them to reconsider their recent decision not to cooperate with the Australian Kashrut agencies which is impacting our ability to assess their products for kosher consumption. We are hopeful that Sanitarium will respond favourably.

If you have any queries, please contact - kosher@ahc.org.nz
